German Drinking songs!!

Food and Drink

- German wines, beers and schnapps
- Serve German sausages, ham, gherkins, rollmop, herrings, sauerkraut, and red pickled cabbage. Some of these foods can be bought ready prepared in jars.
- A famous German dish is “Hummel und Erde”, which translated means “Heaven and Earth”. It is prepared as follows: Cooked potatoes are sliced and put in an ovenproof dish with alternate layers of onions, apples, and diced bacon. Dot with butter and season and cook for 40 minutes in a medium oven.
- The sweet to follow must of course, be Black Forest Gateaux

Fun and Games

- Play German trivia (enclosed). Prizes could be Eau de Cologne, German wine, or a giant German sausage!
- Community singing: a good song to start with and one, which everyone knows is “I love to go a-wandering”. Get everyone swaying in unison at the tables with their beer mugs.
- If the weather is fine, create a German beer garden outside with the continuing theme.
- Give a prize to the person who makes up the best line for the following limerick:

In the old town of Baden-Baden,
You'll find the perfect beer garden,
There's beer, wine and schnapps,
And fraulines on laps
