FROM PARIS WITH LOVE

Between the croissants and crowds, here's what stole our hearts at Paris Deco Off

In Paris there's always romance and here it came in a joyful collaboration between GP & J Baker and interior visionary Kit Kemp. Infused with whimsy and Kit's trademark storytelling, the collection includes a fabulous selection of skinny and fat linen stripes plus a printed celebration of Robina Jack ceramics. Meanwhile, Martin Brudnizki's Sway lamp for Porta Romana drew admirers for its eye-popping yellow hue. However, softer hues prevailed elsewhere, like at Bernie de Le Cuona, whose fresh paisley fabric, 'Elizabeth', will be a sure-fire hit. Cole & Son's temporary French home was decked out in archive favourite, 'Hummingbirds', now appearing in new colourways and as embroidered silk. Many brands highlighted sustainability credentials, not least Arte International, whose new wallcovering collection, 'Lanai', Hawaiian for 'verandah', features rattan and raffia, hand-crafted and inlaid. And finally, no trip to Paris is complet without a visit to Maison Lelièvre, where the star of the show was the revival of the Quenin brand, which celebrates the rich character of La Belle Époque. Merci, Paris, you put on a great show. ■
