BENEFITS OF THE BLEND

Clinical-Strength, Therapeutic Applications

The blend is quite simple - highly concentrated, naturally-flavored full-spectrum hemp extract and pure coconut oil.

We produce these expert formulations to optimize utility for general health and wellness and a vast array of applications.

Full-Spectrum Hemp Extract

A natural whole-plant form of hemp extract with the most significant value and optimal benefit is full-spectrum hemp extract, the staple in our flavored CBD oil drops.

Full-spectrum offers what is commonly known as the "Entourage Effect," which is the ability for natural whole-plant hemp-derived cannabinoid compounds to work in sync as nature intends. In this case, we use CBD dominant hemp plants containing minor cannabinoids such as CBG, CBC, CBN, and CBDV, which become full-spectrum when gently extracted in a solvent-free, supercritical CO2 extraction methodology.

KANNACO

CBD EDUCATION

CBD Oil Drops

At Kannaco, we design our CBD oil drops as a holistic, whole-plant supplement for your Endocannabinoid System (ECS). Your ECS is a regulatory system responsible for promoting the homeostasis and balance of all system functionality in your body.

CBD is a phytocannabinoid, a whole-plant, hemp-derived cannabinoid that supplements your ECS and combats a wide variety of systematic challenges such as sleep, stress, inflammatory responses, immunity levels, and more.

Everyone is Different

The way CBD interacts with your ECS can be different from those around you. Some may find sleep value when others find stress relief. Whatever your need for using or trying CBD may be, it is best to use our product daily, for a good 2-weeks to 30-days, take notes, and track how you feel.

Suggested Use

- Establish a routine and use daily
- Take one (1) full dropper (30mL) for best results and adjust dosage as necessary.
- Use the dropper to place the oil under your tongue and hold for 20-seconds before swallowing.
