Creamy & Fresh

Roberto Cantori grew up in the heart of Le Marche, hearing the story of a rebel winegrower who decided to grow vines in a remote area high up in the hills of Le Marche. Fascinated by the legend of this man, Roberto decided to purchase the then-abandoned plots where the rebel was said to have grown his vines, and ever since has dedicated himself to protecting this hidden gem with his winery Fattoria Nanni.

Origini is the first wine Cantori produced. It comes from vines planted in a type of soil called 'calanchi', composed of sand which was once under the ocean and that originated from the erosion of Monte San Vicino. The nose offers a fruity and floral bouquet, with accents of wisteria, citrus and bitter almond. The palate reveals a very fresh and agile texture, equipped with a strong saline structure and long finish.

Perfect with grilled fish and fresh salads.

About the Winery

Fattoria Nannì

Fattoria Nannì is an organic estate in Apero in Macerata province in Le Marche, a region on the Adriatic coast of Italy. The estate was founded by Roberto Cantori in 2016. He makes white wines under the Verdicchio dei Castelli di Jesi Classico Superiore DOC. This is one of the most southerly estates in the Verdicchio dei Castelli di Jesi denomination. It's a dry, cool, luminous area protected by mountains. Monte San Vicino to the east acts as a shield while Monte Conero and the Adriatic Sea are to the north-east. The altitude is 400-450 metres and in this part of Jesi (Apero, Cupra) the vines mainly face the sea, not the mountains.
