DIRECT HEAT COOKING

This is the oldest method of cooking and great to braai steak or hamburger patties. It is the direct exposure (on the grid) to the heat that cooks the food. Anything that needs high volumes of heat, needs to be cooked using direct heat, for example steaks.

COOKING DIRECTLY ON THE GRID

3

BAKING

Bake a pizza with Infrared heat for exceptionally juicy foods. Using the Patented Heat Plates on top of the grid facing upwards, the Infrared heat created under the heat plate allows for cooking foods that would normally fall through the standard cooking grids, for example prawns, veggies or rashers.

HEAT PLATES ON TOP OF THE GRID

2

INDIRECT HEAT COOKING

This Infrared PLUS™ Patented Technology that redistributes the rising heat by using the Heat Plate upside down underneath the grid. The heat plates also catch all the drippings from the food to help keep your braai clean. Foods like chicken or fish that need a bit more time on the braai will work great using indirect heat.

HEAT PLATES UNDERNEATH COOKING GRID

4

SMOKING

This cooking system is created by using the Patented Heat Plate BELOW the cooking grid, upside down. Place soaked wood chips onto the Patented Heat Plate and close the hood to add another level of smoked flavour to your food. Smoking works great for foods like ribs, chicken or fish.

1

DIRECT COOKING

Traditional braaiing as you know it. Only use the grid of your Gourmet system, without the sauté pan, to braai like you know it. This configuration is perfect for a big family lunch or dinner, where you need all the space on the braai for sosaties, boerewors, braai broodjies and more!

3

SAUTE/ FRY PAN

REMEMBER!

TREAT YOUR GOURMET PLUS CAST IRON COOKING PLATES WITH OIL AFTER WASHING WITH WARM WATER AND DISH-WASHING LIQUID.

Flip around the griddle side of the cooking system to the flat surface. It is made with a raised edge to keep juices, sauces, and oil inside of the pan while sautéing. Perfect for big breakfasts with eggs, bacon, and pancakes, stir fry veggies, onions and mushrooms. While braaiing your meat on the right side of your braai, use your sauté pan to prepare a delicious sauce with smoky flavour.

You can experiment with your sauté pan and prepare a Stroganoff, Goulash, or stew right on your braai. Warm up fresh rolls on your warming rack while the stew cooks, for delicious flavour infused bread with your meal.

4 INDIRECT COOKING

Using the same configuration as you would to smoke, flat pan on the bottom with the grid on top, cook food that needs lower heat and more time on the braai. Catch juices and fat from the meat in your sauté pan to use later for a sauce.

2

SEARING

This cooking method involves the Griddle side of the pan to be used. It has raised cast iron bars to create striking sear marks on the food you char on it. Use it to make hamburger patties, steak, schnitzels, fish, eggplant steaks, etc. The raised bars will help to drain away any unwanted fat from the food. It is equipped with a small hole in the corner for fat and juices to run into the drip tray of your braai.

5 SMOKING

There is a variety of ways to smoke. Depending on the amount of time you have, soak your wood chips in water or wine about 30 minutes before you plan to smoke. This will add another layer of flavour to your smoke and will take longer to burn out. If you are short on time, use the wood chips dry as is.

Keeping the flat side of the Gourmet Cooking System on your braai, fill it with wood chips. Slot the grid on top of the sauté pan in the designated holes to keep the grid secure. Place any food on top of the grid and close the lid to smoke it. For a quicker smoke, seal your meat on your searing side burner or partially cook on the right side of your braai first before placing it on the wood chips. All food being cooked on your braai will be infused with smoky flavour.

Rubbish bag wire rack included on the side of your cart to immediately dispose of waste as you prep.

Tablet stand included to read your recipes as you're busy prepping your meal. Going old school, use it for a recipe book.

Paper towel holder and accessory hooks on the one end of the cart.

Adjustable middle shelf for storage while you prep, and condiment tray that can be moved around the surface of the cart.

Two wheels to move the cart around from your patio to your kitchen, with steel handle.

CAST IRON FIREPLACES

HERE ARE A FEW THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW:

The cast iron fireplace range retains and emanates a pleasant heat, the fireplace will stay warm long after the fire has died. They have adjustable air vents for heat regulation and flow control. Can be installed with a top or rear flue pipe, which is sold separately. Cast iron fireplaces use a closed combustion system which will make your fire burn for longer at higher temperatures because the door seals and locks in heat. Includes four small legs to elevate your fireplace from the floor (excluding built-in cast iron units).

Part of our built-in cast iron fireplace range, our Megamaster Andiron 14kW Cast Iron Fireplace will add value to your home for keeps. It is effective in heating rooms ranging between 112-140m² in size. Heat generated inside is locked in and will burn at higher temperatures with the door closed. For optimal heat, ensure that the room is well insulated. Your fireplace will emit heat long after the fire has died through the cast iron material it is made of, and the flue pipe. Can be installed with a top or rear flue pipe that is sold separately.

Ever since the first night someone built a fire and started telling a story to distract people from the dark, so it has always been. We have returned to that place time and time again. To sit, to huddle, to cook and feel safe.

But more than that, to share under the African sun.
