Performance in a Practical Package.

The Power Plate® pro5HP™ High Performance model is designed to meet the needs of the world's elite athletes. The columnless design allows for 360-degree range of motion around the plate surface or for integration with other equipment such as a squat rack, so athletes can perform a full range of static, dynamic and plyometric exercises. The user-friendly remote control allows athletes or their trainers to adjust settings instantly and without interruption to their workout. The HP model has an optional travel case so it can be conveniently stored away or transported, making it ideal for professional athletes who are on the move.

Welcome to the future of your workout.
