

Table lamp

Gigi

Gigi is playful. Its lines are daring and its tones sensual. Under the breath of the glassblower, the unique shades and tones of the color spread throughout the material. It allows itself to be discovered, to be revealed in alternating opacity and transparency.

Gigi was the result of a professional love affair between Studio d'Armes and Verre d'Onge. This joint project is the alliance of two domains: the mastery of glass and of light. Its very existence emerges from a creative process focused on pleasure and an exploration of its physical nature, of the sensory experience of its presence in space, both in its table and floor version.

Gigi offers quality two-way lighting that fades to warmer shades to create a muted ambience in which it infuses a touch of playfulness, joy and softness.
