Furniture Collection

Clean, architectural geometries paired with timeless, natural materials are what define the Frama Furniture Collection. Guided by a desire to create practical objects with a true sense of meaning and permanence, each piece in the Furniture Collection is designed for everyday and built to last for many years of use, gaining a natural patina over time.

Shelf Library Cabinet

Picking up where Frama's Shelf Library 2016 debut left off, Kim Richardt's latest cabinet employs traditional Danish craftsmanship to contemporary effect. A structure made out of solid wood and natural oiled oak veneer doors takes a starring role in the form of the Shelf Library Cabinet, lending spaces an airy feel.

A natural extension of Frama's versatile Shelf Library universe, the Shelf Library Cabinet was designed to seamlessly complement the collection.

The cabinet can be easily styled in various ways thanks to its modular configuration using solid steel screws on oak rails. This modularity gives the user a bigger scope to personalize storage and to better suit their space.

Designed to integrate effortlessly into the Shelf Library, the Shelf Library Cabinet creates a common symmetrical geometry as the oak grains visible in the front doors follow the vertical aesthetic of the shelf and its rails. Moreover, this verticality, inspired by the way trees grow in nature, allows for a stronger and more durable piece of furniture, adding warmth, texture, and nuance.

The Shelf Library Cabinet is a showcase of its clean, seamless look and sculptural style where a push-to-open system eliminates the need for handles or knobs. A uniform surface without noise or disturbance. Its private approach to storage facilitates a balance of intimacy and display. This minimal design lends itself to any space, creating a humble backdrop for the most cherished objects.

* Note: Shelf Library Cabinet can only be used as part of the Shelf Library; it is not a free-standing piece.

The designer

“The design of the Shelf Library Cabinet follows the vertical rhythm of the growing trees in nature and the use of noble wood thrives for longevity. A timeless piece yet still on-trend,”

—Kim Richardt

Kim Richardt is a former blacksmith and a self-taught designer based in Copenhagen, Denmark, where his vintage design furniture boutique resides. Kim’s fascination with Danish Modern, a style of minimalist furniture associated with the Danish design movement of the 1940s and 1950s, is often influential in his work. Celebrated for his work with traditional production practices and heritage in the Nordic region, his impressive portfolio expands yet another time with this piece. Kim has an approach driven by a passion for craftsmanship and authentic creations in natural materials. His work embraces the principles of Bauhaus modernism in furniture design, creating clean, pure lines coupled with careful research into materials, proportions, and the requirements of the human body.

The collaboration

Through continuous dialogue and ever-evolving feedback from customers and Shelf Library users, the idea behind Shelf Library Cabinet was conceived as a natural extension of Frama’s versatile shelving universe, a timeless piece designed to complement the collection seamlessly.

The collaboration between Kim Richardt and Frama has evolved to become a creative kinship with the development of several products such as the KR-180 Daybed, the Shelf Library System, the Ornament Candle Holder and the Richardt Chair.

This collaboration is the outcome of a challenging idea pursued with tenacity, where originality and a look back to the mid-century classics resulted in a versatile piece of furniture with an honest aesthetic.
