TERRA FIRMA

of the Earth

TERRA FIRMA cloth of the earth. Untamed yet elegant the collection strikes the perfect balance between form and function. A tale of nature's innate power and beauty.

Four new designs are woven in natural yarns refined and skilfully crafted to create textiles, made to last, with a strong earthy aesthetic. From raw yet delicate sheers and soft subtly slubby linens to robust, dense upholstery cloths and tightly woven Merino wool velvets, these are cloths that emphasise the beauty of raw fibres. Natural irregularities add character and texture to the finished fabrics that have real honesty and integrity. Nurturing neutral shades sit alongside the warmth of mud brown and hot shots of terra rossa.

Terra Firma is made with care and skill. Raw yarns are refined to create timeless textiles that embrace the imperfect beauty of nature.

MERINO VELVET

A fresh take on a traditional velvet available in a range of saturated hues, inspired by the abundance of the natural world. This contemporary velvet is tightly woven using the most refined Merino wool fibres, resulting in a luxuriously dense pile. The compact weave creates a cloth that is extremely durable and soft to the touch with a unique matt surface quality.

SEED LINEN

This timeless and versatile linen is an evolution of the simple, tactile cloths de Le Cuona is renowned for. Inspired by the surface qualities of dried seed pods, this linen comes in a wide range of neutrals, each with subtle nuances, slubs, and irregularities resulting in a soft, striae appearance. A staple in any scheme Seed Linen works as either curtains or upholstery.

FORAGE CLOTH

A robust textured rib that combines utilitarian practicality with the art of nature. A unique blend of linen and wool combine to create a tonal mélange on the face of the cloth whilst sturdy raw linen yarns are interwoven at the back, giving a pronounced texture. Perfect for upholstery this cloth has a dense, dry hand and is available in a range of soft, earthy pigments.

DRIFTWOOD

This cloth appears raw and weathered, embracing the beauty of imperfection. With an organic texture that is delicate in appearance but strong in structure, yarns of different densities are interlaced to create a substantial double width sheer. Linen fibres of varied hues are twisted together to create dappled, tonal colourways with faint slubs and flecks.
