

ABOUT OUR 'FULL MOON' RED WINE BLEND

'Full Moon' is a red wine blend centered on Italian grape varieties grown on different vineyards on the Central Coast. Our goal is to capture the fruity ripeness of warm-climate Italian red table wines while still being bright and fresh. Each grape variety was grown on a different vineyard and were picked separately at their respective ripeness. Each individual lot was destemmed and crushed into open top vessels where the juice fermented for about 3 weeks. Depending on the progress of the fermentation, we punched down the grapes up to three times each day by hand. After fermentation, the wines were pressed into 100% neutral French oak barrels where it aged for 240 days. This wine is made using only native, natural yeast alive in the air and on the grapes. Nothing is added throughout the wine's élevage, resulting in a wine that is rich and complex with strong primary fruit flavors and acid, and remains unfiltered and unfiltered.
