A welcoming and uncomplicated collection of benches

The Stretch collection is characterized by long, solid pine planks that emphasize the robustness, durability and quality of the design. The design is the epitome of utilitarian minimalism - no superfluous details are applied. Instead, Stretch possesses a simple, uncomplicated and welcoming design language. The collection consists of a stool of 40 cm, a bench of 160 cm and a longer bench of 200 cm. All three utilize full-length pine planks of a certain thickness, a choice that emphasizes the beauty and strength of the material. The durable, welcoming appeal of the pine wood will be further enhanced over time. Compared to other wood types, which are more homogeneous, pine acquires a stunning patina over time, designed to last a lifetime and to age beautifully.
