PK80™

The PK80™ Daybed is the embodiment of Poul Kjærholm's talent for refining historical models and distilling design down to its very essence. The daybed draws inspiration from a couch designed by Mies van der Rohe and Lilly Reich in 1930. It can be found today in the Museum of Modern Art and around the world as a celebrated illustration of craftsmanship and modern design.

DESIGNER / YEAR OF DESIGN

Poul Kjærholm, 1957

ABOUT THE DESIGNER

Poul Kjærholm was a trained cabinet maker and continued his studies at the Danish School of Arts and Crafts in Copenhagen. He had a particular interest in different construction materials, especially steel, which he considered a natural material with the same artistic fineness as other natural materials. Poul Kjærholm was first employed at Fritz Hansen for about a year, where he designed a number of noteworthy chair prototypes. In 1955, Poul Kjærholm initiated his collaboration with manufacturer Ejvind Kold Christensen, which lasted until Kjærholm's death in 1980. In 1982, Fritz Hansen took over the manufacture and sales of "The Kjærholm Collection", which was developed over the period 1951 to 1967.
