These were great in-class resources for my Intervention students. I printed them on bright colored paper so that they were easy to see and 'fun' for their eyes!

Diphthongs & R-Controlled Vowels

Put the sentences on rings!

Prep it once and use it over and over, year after year! You will need small book rings and a hole punch! I printed the pages on paper and then laminated them, but printing on cardstock would be much easier (and faster)!

2 Ways to Use

Let your students do the work with "make and take" books!

2

Print and give students the page with the target phonics skill. Have them cut on the dotted lines and then stack the strips. Staple them together on the left hand side. Voila!

My struggling students were engaged with these sentences. I used these sentences and focused on the phonics that I taught that week. I would print them out and cut the sentences apart and we would work with those sentences all week.
