The Summer Club Name

“It is finally summer,” Ben said. “Do you know what that means?” he asked Sam. “It is time for summer club!” Sam replied. “Let’s go to the clubhouse.” They ran to their back yard. There was a shed in the very back. Their mom let them use it for their clubhouse in the summer. “What do you want to do this summer?” Sam asked. “I want to go camping,” Ben said. Sam wrote it on a piece of paper. “I want to make a tire swing,” Sam said. Ben wrote it down. “I want to go fishing, too,” Ben said. Sam wrote it down. They looked at their list. “Summer club is going to be fun this year!” they said.

① Why do they say that summer club will be fun this year?

② Where do they make the list? in a tent in a shed

The Summer Club Name

“It’s finally summer! You know what that means,” Ben said. “It’s time for summer club!” Sam said. “I’ll race you to the clubhouse!” They ran to the shed in the back yard. Sam got there first. She opened the door for Ben. “Thank you, Sam. What should we do this summer?” he asked. Sam got their clubhouse sign. She put it on the shed door. “I want to have a lot of fun,” she said. “Me too!” Ben said. “I want to go camping.” “That will be fun!” Sam said. She got a piece of paper. She wrote “camping” at the top of the list. “I want to build a tire swing. We could hang it from the tree in the front yard,” she said. “That is a good idea. Write it on the list,” Ben said. Sam wrote “tire swing” under “camping”. “I want to go fishing,” Ben said. “We can go to the pond by the park,” Sam said. She wrote “fishing” on the list. “This is going to be a fun summer! Do you know what the summer club needs?” Ben asked. “What?” Sam asked. “Let’s invite our friends,” he said. Sam wrote “friends” on the list. “That is our best plan so far!” she said.

① What did they write on their list?

The Summer Club

Name _____

Ben and Sam got off the bus. They ran home. "I am so excited that it is summer," Ben said. "Do you know what this means?" "We can start summer club again!" Sam said. They walked inside their house. They put their backpacks down. "Yes, we can! I'll race you to the clubhouse!" Ben said. They ran out to the shed in the back yard.

Sam got to the shed first. She opened the door for Ben. "Thank you, Sam!" he said. "Let's get started." Sam got the club sign and put it on the front door. "The first thing we need to do is make plans. What do you want to do this summer?" she asked. "I really want to go camping!" Ben said. "Camping is so fun.

That is perfect for summer club." Sam got a piece of paper. She wrote "camping" at the top. "What do you want to do this summer?" Ben asked. Sam pointed at an old tire in the shed. "I want to build a tire swing. We could hang it from the big tree in the front yard," she said. "I like that idea! Write it on the list," Ben said. Sam wrote "tire swing" under "camping". "What else should we do?" she asked. "I want to go fishing," Ben said. "Oh, that will be fun! We can go to the pond that is by the park," Sam said. She wrote "fishing" on the list, too.

"I have another idea," Ben said. "What is it?" Sam asked. "We need to invite our friends to our summer club!" Ben said. Sam grinned. "What a great idea, Ben. It would be so much fun to have our friends join summer club, too," Sam said. She wrote "friends" on the list. "I bet they will have fun ideas to add to the list," Ben said. "This is going to be the best summer ever," Sam said. Ben nodded. He was glad that summer was finally here.
