

LINIE DESIGN

HANDMADE RUGS

---

HAND-KNOTTED

The hand-knotted technique is one of the most intricate and time-honored methods of rug making. Crafted on vertical looms, each piece of yarn is tied individually to the warp by hand - a process that requires immense skill and patience. The quality of a hand-knotted rug is defined by the number of knots per square inch, with higher densities allowing for exceptional detail and precision.

- Key characteristics

Pile surface without backing

Every knot is tied individually

80 knot/inch

Created to last for generations

Impressive piece of handwork

Warp setting: 4-5 days

Time honored production method: 80-90 days to weave size 6'6" x 9'8"

What you see on the back is a mirror image of the front

- Design possibilities

Detailed, abstract, and artistic patterns

Unique depth through colour, yarn, and pile variations

Linie Design examples: Watertopia collection, Monu, and Optical Web